Philippians - Jesus & Remnant: Finding True Joy and Unity in Christ

Past > Present > Future

Introduction

Chapter 1: Christ-centered steadfastness in the face of suffering

The Advancement of the Gospel:

Paul views his Roman imprisonment not as a setback, but as a divine tool that actively furthers the kingdom of God.

"To Live is Christ": A total surrender of personal ambition where Christ becomes the supreme focus, motive, and measure of a believer's existence.

Steadfast Unity: A call for believers to stand firm together in one spirit, un-terrified by outside opposition.

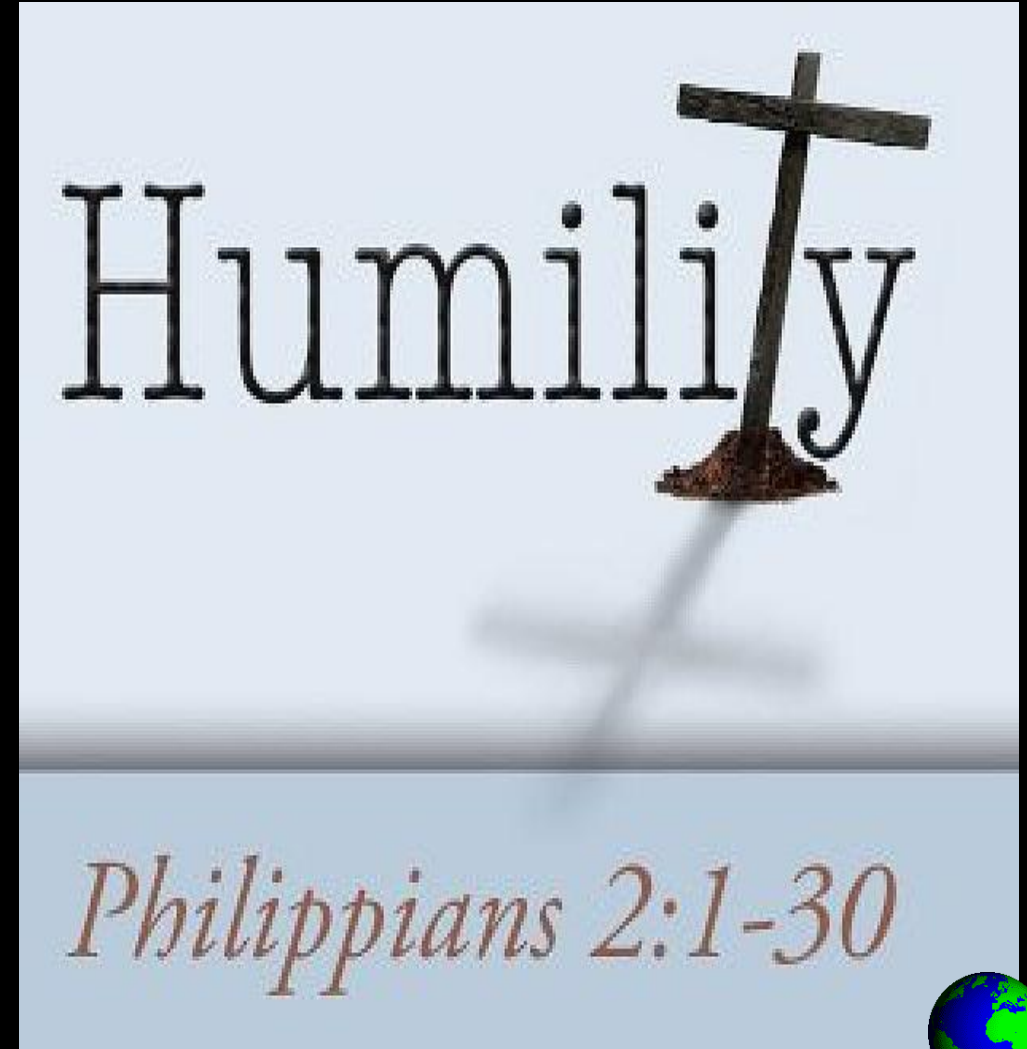

Introduction

Chapter 2: Unity Through Christlike Humility

Paul urges believers to be of the same mind, rooted in the shared comfort and fellowship of Christ. Selfish ambition and vain conceit destroy church fellowship. Jesus existed in the "form of God" but did not cling to His divine rights or status. He emptied Himself, taking the form of a servant and living as a human.

Because Jesus humbled Himself completely, God highly exalted Him and gave Him the name above every name. Every knee will bow and confess that Jesus Christ is Lord. Believers are told to "work out your own salvation with fear and trembling".

Introduction

Chapter 3: Righteousness by faith in Jesus Christ alone

Paul warns believers to "beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the mutilation" (legalistic teachers demanding circumcision) and declares it all "loss" for Christ. He desires to be found in Christ, "not having my own righteousness, which is from the law, but that which is through faith in Christ". He notes he has not yet reached perfection, but "forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead, I press toward the goal".

Philippians 3:6

Introduction

Chapter 4: Peace, joy & contentment anchored in Christ

Paul urges believers to "stand fast in the Lord" and pleads with members like Euodia and Syntyche to resolve personal rifts and be "of the same mind". "Rejoice in the Lord always" and replace worry with prayer, supplication, and thanksgiving. Meditate on things that are true, noble, just, pure, lovely, and of good report. Learning to be content in any state—whether abased or abounding—through Christ who gives strength.

3 - Lessons in the book of Philippians

Chapter 1: Paul's imprisonment not as a setback

Joy Independent of Circumstances:

Paul writes from a Roman prison, yet words of joy and thanksgiving fill his opening remarks.

God's Unfinished Work: Philippians 1:6 teaches confidence that "he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ".

Trials as a Mission Field: Paul notes that his chains served to "advance the gospel" within the imperial guard.

Unity and Steadfastness: Paul urges the believers to stand firm "in one spirit, with one mind striving together" and reminds them that suffering for Christ is a shared privilege.

Chapter 2: The nature of Christ's divinity & humility

The call to Humility: True church unity cannot be achieved through human politics or pride, but only by abandoning selfish ambition (vainglory) and esteeming others above oneself.

Emptiness and Service: Jesus possessed the "form of God" (full divine nature and equality), yet He did not cling to His divine prerogatives as a prize to be used for self-elevation.

Cooperation, Not Legalism: To "work out your own salvation with fear and trembling" does not mean earning salvation (justification by works). Rather, it means actively choosing to cooperate with the Holy Spirit.

Without Complaining: Believers are called to stand out against a crooked generation by avoiding murmuring and disputing.

Chapter 3: Call to reject righteousness by works

Paul warns the believers to beware of legalistic teachers (often referred to as Judaizers) who taught that keeping external rituals—specifically circumcision—was required for a right standing with God.

Paul lists his impressive resume as a devout Hebrew, a Pharisee, and a meticulous keeper of the law. Yet, he declares he counts all these things as "rubbish" (or loss) compared to the supreme value of knowing Christ.

Paul expresses his desire to be found in Christ, possessing God's righteousness, and to know Him, the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings. He reminds believers that "our citizenship is in heaven".

Conclusion

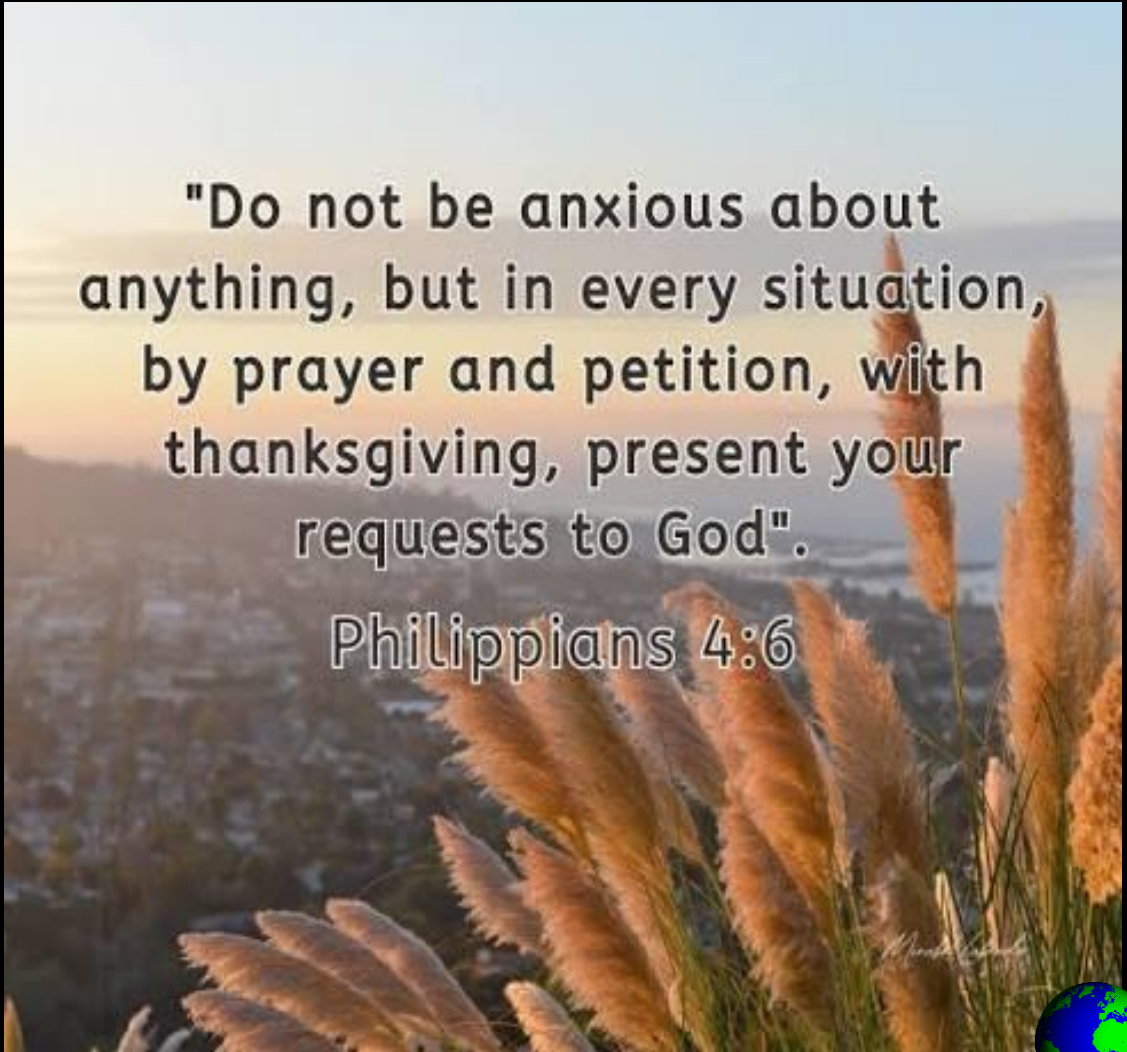

Chapter 6: Steadfastness, unity, prayer & contented mind

Paul urges believers to "stand fast in the Lord", anchored by the promise of heavenly citizenship and the resurrection.

"Rejoice in the Lord always" is framed not as a fleeting emotion, but as a deliberate choice of obedience and an act of faith.

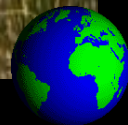

Believers are commanded, "Be anxious for nothing". Paul provides a mental checklist: dwell on things that are true, noble, just, pure, lovely, of good report, virtuous, and praiseworthy.

Contentment is not natural; it is a learned spiritual posture. Paul states he knows how to face plenty and hunger alike. Paul acknowledges the Philippians' financial sacrifice for his ministry.

"Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God".

Philippians 4:6

God has given all:

An angel with large white wings is shown from the chest up, wearing a white robe and writing with a quill pen on a scroll. To the right of the angel is a large, ornate brass hourglass. In the upper right corner, a red devil's face with horns and a mischievous grin is visible against a dark background. The scene is lit with warm, golden light.

Revelation 12:12

“..... for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.”
